Testing Principles

Test Principle number 5 of 7:

Tests Wear Out.

Repeating the same test cases will reduce the probability of these test cases finding defects.

Tester should always update his test cases and test data and try to induce failures to the system.

Repeating the same tests are beneficial in automated regression testing and confirmation testing.